Editorial from Growers NI

As the current chairman of Growers NI it gives me great pleasure to welcome you to the new Growers NI Amenity Horticulture Directory for Northern Ireland – the essential reference guide for everyone involved in amenity horticulture. The aim of this directory is to help you source quality plants, sundries and services locally. The booklet allows you to quickly check the contact details of a host of key players within the amenity horticulture sector in Northern Ireland.

We cannot escape the fact that the economic climate remains challenging for all horticultural businesses. This means there is an even greater need for a comprehensive and up to date directory of businesses. Within the Amenity Horticulture Directory for Northern Ireland you can source contact details for growers, garden centres, contractors, architects, service providers and sundry suppliers as well as florists, golf courses and local authorities. If you need a telephone number quickly, the Fast Finder at the back of the booklet should help you find it.

Many people have told me how useful they find the Directory in booklet form. That is why we have opted to update the listings but retain the winning format. However if you prefer, the information contained within the directory can also be found online at www.ruralni.gov.uk.

I would like to take this opportunity to wish you every success with your business.

Stephen Gordon
Chairman, Growers NI

Aims and objectives of Growers NI

Growers NI aim to serve the best interests of growers in Northern Ireland and foster the healthy development of the industry as follows:

- Provide analysis of existing and potential home and export markets.
- Extend the expertise and knowledge of its members.
- Improve public awareness of plants through various promotional activities.
- Pursue any other means which Growers NI may deem beneficial.

Growers NI also aims to develop co-operation between its members.

Foreword

I am delighted the Department of Agriculture and Rural Development has been able to assist and support Growers NI in the production of the Amenity Horticulture Directory 2011/12. I am very glad to see growers continuing to work together for the benefit of the sector and indeed the wider amenity horticulture industry in the north of Ireland. I believe this is crucial to the long term success of the industry.

The amenity horticulture sector has faced challenges as a result of the economic downturn. In such times it is vital to remain market focussed and encourage people to support local business. This directory provides an excellent showcase for the wide range of quality plants that our diverse amenity horticulture industry produces. I am confident this booklet will help to get the contact details of local businesses distributed to a wider marketplace throughout Ireland.

This Amenity Horticulture Directory has again been designed to provide wide ranging reference material for all aspects of amenity horticulture from growing through to retailing and including landscape designers, architects, contractors, garden service providers and sundry suppliers. Golf courses and local authority contact details are also included making this useful desk reference particularly comprehensive. I hope this directory will continue to be used widely in the north and further afield.

DARD continues to support and develop the amenity horticulture industry through a range of measures which include education and training, technology development and transfer and supply chain initiatives. I am happy to be able to take this opportunity to wish Growers NI members and the wider amenity horticulture industry ongoing success with their businesses.
